IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR TENANTS

If the landlord gives you notice to move because of the rehabilitation and you do not agree that you need to move to allow the work to be done, you should talk to your landlord. If you cannot work things out with the landlord, you can contact the Residential Tenancies Branch at 204-945-2476 or toll-free at 1-800-782-8403 or by email at rtb@gov.mb.ca to dispute the notice.

If you move because of the landlord's notice, the landlord must pay you compensation for your moving expenses, up to a maximum of $500.00. If the landlord does not pay you this compensation, you may contact the Branch for assistance. If you want to have the right of first refusal, you must let the landlord know in writing before you move out. You must also give the landlord a mailing address for you while the renovations are being done and let the landlord know if this address changes.

If the landlord gives you notice to move because of the rehabilitation, you have the right of first refusal to rent your unit at the lowest rent that would be charged to any other tenant once the renovations are complete.

If your rental unit is a condominium, the landlord may not be able to give you notice to move because of the rehabilitation. Contact the Branch for information.
